Preparation

Create Sacred Space

Cleanse your space using your preferred method—herbal smoke, sound, salt, or visualization. Arrange your spell tools in a layout that feels sacred and aligned. If it is your tradition, you may wish to cast a circle, wear a ritual cloak, or include other altar tools (such as a wand, chalice, or athame). Make your altar your own. Say aloud:

*"This is my space of magick and power.
I enter as I am, and I rise whole."*

Setting Intention

Stand or sit in stillness. Close your eyes. Say:

*"I remember who I am.
I awaken the witch within."*

Feel the quiet rise of your personal power, of your magickal energy.

Spellworking

Use your crystal-accented herbal spoon to sprinkle Magickal Spellcasting Herbal Blend into the base of your candleholder. As you do, say:

*"By herb and flame and sacred rite—
I call my magick into light."*

Hold the Magick Spell Candle in your hands. Visualize your magickal energy spiraling upward from the earth into your body, then into the candle. Say:

*"With this flame, I claim my craft.
With this light, I walk my path."*

Place the candle into the holder.

Light the candle and speak with power:

*"By the flame that burns in me,
By will and breath, by mystery—
I claim the witch I've always been.
I walk my path. I rise again."*

Watch the flame glow and know it mirrors the magick already within you. Gaze into the candle's flame and see your Witch Self rising—strong, steady, luminous. Speak the following chant 3–7 times:

*"Magick stirs in bone and breath,
I conjure life, I cast, I bless.
The witch within now lights the way—
I rise in power from this day."*

With each repetition, feel your energy rising. Let the flame ignite your intuition, your power, your knowing. If using the Magick Key, or another Talisman, hold it gently or press it to your heart or third eye. Say:

*"This key unlocks the witch I am—
In every breath, in every hand."*

Then gently breathe onto the key—a single, intentional exhale—infusing it with the breath of your magick, sealing the energy you've raised into the talisman.

Keep the key close as a living symbol of your Craft.

Closing the Spell

Extinguish the candle slowly and with reverence. Thank your sacred self, your breath, your flame, and your Craft. If you cast a circle, release it now with intention. Breathe deep. You are magick.

Preparation

Create Sacred Space

Cleanse your space using smoke, sound, or visualization. Arrange your tools as a charging station—centered on the candleholder. If you're working just before a spell, place the spell materials nearby so they can bask in the charged energy. Say aloud:

*"I call in power, clear and true—
To charge my Craft, to work, to do."*

Setting Intention

Stand or sit with focus. Close your eyes and place your hands just above your belly or solar plexus. Say:

*"Let my energy rise, steady and bright.
Let my spellwork be focused, clear, and filled with might."*

Visualize the magickal current stirring awake.

Spellworking

Use your crystal-accented herbal spoon to circle the Magickal Spellcasting Herbal Blend around the base of your candleholder. As you do, imagine forming a magickal ring of charge. Say:

"Circle cast, the current grows—Energy rising, steady flow."

Hold the Magick Spell Candle in your hands. Close your eyes and pull energy up from the Earth and down from the stars, gathering it in your solar plexus. Breathe this power into the candle. Whisper:

*"I am the source. I hold the spark.
My will is strong, my aim is sharp."*

Insert the candle into the ringed holder. Light the candle and speak:

*"By flame and smoke, my will ignites—
Fuel for the spell that soon takes flight.
I cast with strength, with will, with grace—
And call in power to fill this space."*

Begin to move your hands in a clockwise spiral above the flame. With each pass, build the energy, visualizing golden fire growing brighter in your aura. Say:

"Power builds at my command, Spell and spirit, heart and hand."

Repeat 3–7 times, letting the energy rise through your voice, your body, and the room. When you feel the peak, direct it into your altar, tools, or spell materials with one strong breath or gesture. If using the Magick Key Talisman, hold it over the flame or between both hands. Say:

"Key of fire, key of flame—Hold this charge in Witch's name."

Breathe on the key to seal it.

Closing

Extinguish the candle with intention or let it burn while you move into your spellwork. Say:

*"The charge is set. The power flows.
My Craft is strong. The magick grows."*

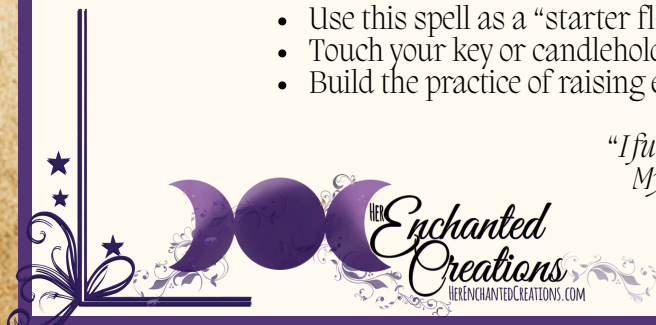

Release the energy gently or allow it to flow into your next working.

Living in Accord

- Use this spell as a "starter flame" for important workings
- Touch your key or candleholder before casting to reconnect with this charge
- Build the practice of raising energy regularly

Affirm:

*"I fuel my spellwork with focused fire.
My will is clear. My aim is higher."*

Whether you're preparing for an important working or want to add a power boost to a spell in progress, this ritual focuses your intention, sharpens your energy, and ignites the flame of precision and potency. Preparation

Create Sacred Space

Cleanse the space with your preferred method. Arrange your spell tools neatly. If you are using this to enhance another spell, place that spell component, charm, or tool beside your setup. Say aloud:

"I prepare this space to raise and direct—Magickal force, potent and correct."

Setting Intention

Close your eyes. Place your hand on your heart or solar plexus. Breathe in, drawing power into your center. Say:

*"Let my spell be true,
Let my aim be strong,
Let the energy move clear and long."*

Hold the vision of your spell working beautifully and powerfully.

Spellworking

Use your crystal-accented herbal spoon to place Magickal Spellcasting Herbal Blend in a circle around the candleholder. As you move clockwise, say:

*"With sacred smoke and ancient fire,
I amplify my heart's desire."*

Hold the Magick Spell Candle and focus on your desired result—not the path, but the clear, successful outcome. See it happening. Whisper:

*"Focused flame and will refined,
Now let my magick be aligned."*

Place the candle in the holder. Light the candle and speak aloud:

*"Flame of strength, refine my spell—
With speed, with truth, let outcomes swell.
Power focused, crisp and clean—
As I will it, so it's seen."*

Place your hands around the candle and chant:

"Potency rise, intention ignite—Magick flows with crystal light."

With each repetition, sharpen the clarity of your intention. Feel it vibrate in your aura—precise, potent, pure. When the energy peaks, visualize it anchoring into the spell or space you're empowering. Direct it with your breath, your voice, or your hands.

If using the Magick Key Talisman, hold it above the flame or over your spell components. Say:

*"This key locks in the charge I cast—
With strength and focus, deep and fast."*

Gently breathe on the key to bind the energy.

Closing

Extinguish the candle or let it burn down in a safe space. Thank the energy you've raised. If you're boosting another spell, say:

*"It is done.
It is sealed.
It is empowered."*

Release any sacred space you created.

Living in Accord

- Follow up your spell with confident action
- Trust the clarity you created—no need to overwork it
- Keep the spoon or key near your altar as a reminder
- Affirm:

*"My spell is clear. My will is bright.
My magick works by day and night."*

Preparation

Create Sacred Space

Cleanse the area with sound, smoke, or visualization. Arrange your tools in a way that feels primal, bold, or elemental. You may wish to dim the lights to heighten the presence of the flame. Say aloud:

*"From spark to flame, from root to crown,
I summon my Witchfire and call it down."*

Setting Intention

Stand or sit tall. Place one hand on your solar plexus, one on your heart. Say:

*"The fire is mine.
It's always been.
I awaken the Witchfire within."*

Visualize golden-orange light flickering and rising inside you.

Spellworking

Use your crystal-accented herbal spoon to scatter a small amount of Magickal Spellcasting Herbal Blend into the candleholder. As you do, say:

*"This is the spark. This is the core.
I light the flame I've held before."*

Hold the Magick Spell Candle in both hands. Envision the fire within you—courage, power, ancestral knowing—spiraling into the candle's wax. Whisper:

*"With this flame, I rise in power.
Witchfire wakes in this sacred hour."*

Set the candle into the herb-filled holder. Light the candle and say:

*"From within and from above—
I call the flame of truth and love.
Witchfire rise, Witchfire burn—
My sacred power now returns."*

Begin to circle your hand slowly around the flame. With each breath, pull the fire into your body—through your hand, your solar plexus, your breath.

Begin the chant:

*"I am fire, I am flame—
I rise in truth. I claim my name."*

Repeat 3–7 times or until you feel heat building—within your hands, your breath, your energy field. Let it ignite your intuition and awaken your confidence.

If using the Magick Key Talisman, hold it above the flame, then draw it down to your heart. Say:

*"This key holds fire, bold and bright—
I walk with power, will, and light."*

Breathe onto the key to bind the fire to your path.

Closing

Extinguish the candle with purpose or allow it to burn safely to completion.

Thank the flame for revealing your truth. Thank yourself for standing in your power. If sacred space was cast, release it now. Say:

*"The flame within forever burns—
My fire is mine. And it returns."*

Living in Accord

- Begin your rituals with this invocation when you need to energize
- Let your key or spoon act as your daily "witchfire trigger"
- Burn a candle regularly to stay connected to your Craft

Affirm:

*"The Witchfire burns in all I do.
My path is clear. My magick true."*
